FLUR 67 - FIELD SECTOR 138

raised hide
traffic red (RAL 3020)
2016

This work is an examination about perception.
Fact is, that wild animals, such as the hare are not able to see the colour red.
So instead of warning the hare about the hunter with the lurid colour, the raised hide becomes invisible.
A paradoxical effect, which turns the expectation of the viewer upside down.
From the raised hide I made photographs from July 2016 to March 2018.
